Kenya Family Trails

11 DAYS — KENYA

This multi-generational safari begins at an intimate bush home set at the site rumored to be 'Pride Rock'. Perched at 6000 feet, the nights are cool and cozy fires are lit every night. Enthusiasts of all ages will enjoy gameviewing, mountain biking, horseback riding, and visits to local villages. In the Masai Mara and Tsavo Reserves, rangers take children under their wing to track wildlife and observe crocodile and hippo from an underwater platform. Then on to your award-winning coastal villa where high energy fun includes snorkeling and wind surfing, while the more leisurely-inclined may enjoy massages or building sand castles along the white sand beaches. The owners of the four-suite villa have two youngsters and the house has been designed with children in mind. Two ayahs (nannies) are available, allowing each family to choose their own mix of togetherness and independence.
